

GLP email up-date No. 26 (February 2010)

Dear GLP network members,

Please find below a short and informal email-update from the Global Land Project IPO with some recent information that might be relevant for you. We send these short mails on occasion to supplement the GLP NEWS - the main GLP Newsletter

<http://www.globallandproject.org/newsletter.shtml>

1) News

1.1. Call for GLP SSC nominations

GLP activities are overseen by an international Scientific Steering Committee (SSC). You can see the current SSC here: <http://www.globallandproject.org/whoiswho.shtml>. The SSC represents a broad spectrum of disciplines and nationalities, and includes both mid-level and senior scientists. In seeking nominations, we are not only looking for scientific excellence and a high level of commitment to GLP goals, but are also aiming to achieve a disciplinary, nationality, gender and age balance. To nominate a SSC candidate, please send the filled-in GLP SSC Application Form (download here http://www.globallandproject.org/Documents/SSC_Application_form.doc) including a short CV (max. 5 pages) by email to the GLP IPO (Tobias Langanke or Lars Jorgensen). For more information see <http://www.globallandproject.org/News.shtml>

Current round of nominations for new SSC members starting in January 2011: application deadline 1st April 2010.

Applications received after 1st April 2010 will be considered for SSC replacements starting in January 2012.

1.2. New publication outlet of possible interest: Conservation Letters - A journal of the Society for Conservation Biology. This is an online-only, rapid-publication, scientific journal publishing empirical and theoretical research with significant implications for the conservation of biological diversity.

1.3. New Global Change Facebook site by IGBP: IGBP has taken the lead in creating a Facebook page on Global Change to facilitate the exchange of news, ideas and thoughts. The page can be accessed at <http://www.facebook.com/#/pages/Global-change-research/293589173318?ref=ts>.

1.4. New Computational Social Science Society (called CSSS, or "C-triple-S") established to serve as a scientific non-profit professional organization to serve members in our field of computational social science. President: Claudio Cioffi-Revilla, George Mason University ccioffi@gmu.edu
Vice-President: William Griffin, Arizona State University William.Griffin@asu.edu
CSSS will hold its annual conference on November 5-6, 2010, at Arizona State University, Phoenix, AZ

2) Upcoming events

for GLP activities and those already mentioned in previous updates see
